PART A: PRELIMINARY

PREAMBLE

1. The Accepted Bills-i (“AB-i”), which was previously known as Islamic Accepted Bills (IAB) were introduced in 1991 with the objective to encourage and promote both domestic and foreign trade through an Islamic financing mechanism. The AB-i is formulated based on the Shariah concepts of murabahah (cost-plus) and bai’dayn (debt-trading).

2. Murabahah refers to the selling of merchandise at a price based on cost plus profit margin agreed to by both parties. Bai’ dayn refers to the sale of a debt arising from a trade transaction in the form of a deferred payment sale.

3. There are two types of financing under the AB-i facility, namely:-

   (i) Imports and local purchases; and
   (ii) Exports and local sales.

Imports and local purchases

4. An applicable mechanism under this type of financing is the working capital financing under murabahah. Under this concept, the bank appoints the customer as the purchasing agent for the bank. The customer then purchases the required goods from the seller on behalf of the bank, which would then pay the seller and resell the goods to the customer at a price, inclusive of a profit margin. The customer is allowed a deferred payment term of up to 365 days. Upon maturity of the murabahah financing, the customer shall pay the bank the cost of goods plus the bank’s profit margin.
5. The sale of goods by the bank to the customer on deferred payment term constitutes the creation of debt. The debt is securitised in the form of a bills of exchange drawn by the bank on and accepted by the customer for the full amount of the bank’s selling price payable at maturity. If the bank decides to sell the AB-i to a third party, AB-i will be sold under the concept of bai’ dayn.

Imports/Local Purchases AB-i - the bank draws the AB-i (drawing bank) and accepted by the importer/purchaser (acceptor);

Export/local sales

6. The applicable Shariah concept under this type of financing facility is bai’ dayn. The customer prepares the sale documents as required under the sales contract or letter of credit. Subsequently, the sale documents are sent to the purchaser’s bank. The customer draws on the bank a new bill of exchange as a substitution bill that represents the AB-i. The bank will purchase the AB-i at a mutually agreed price using the concept of bai’ dayn and the proceeds will be credited to the customer’s account.

Exports/Local Sales AB-i - the exporter/seller (drawer) draws the AB-i, and accepted by the bank (accepting bank)

7. In conjunction with the revision of the Guidelines on Bankers Acceptance in November 2002, Bank Negara has undertaken a review to revise the IAB Guidelines issued in 1993 to reflect the developments that have taken place in the trade and finance, and to cater the prevailing developments in the financial system.
8. It is hoped that the revised guidelines on AB-i would provide better guidance to the users, particularly the Islamic financial institutions. In any case, should there be any further need to obtain clarification or explanation on the new guidelines, enquiries can be directed to:

The general procedure for the creation of an AB-i is as follows:

(i) An acceptance financing facility is arranged with a bank;

(ii) The required documentary evidence of trade is presented to the bank for the purpose of drawing an AB-i on the bank/purchaser; and

(iii) Once the bank is satisfied that the documents are in order and the AB-i complies with the terms of the AB-i facility and all applicable conditions for the creation of AB-i specified in these Guidelines, the bank shall:

(a) in the case of AB-i-Purchase, draw an AB-i to be accepted by the purchaser/importer; and

(b) in the case of AB-i-Sale, accept the AB-i.

6. General Conditions for Creating an AB-i

6.1 An AB-i may be drawn on and accepted by a bank/purchaser pursuant to an acceptance financing facility, to finance the customer’s genuine trade related purchases from or sales of goods to another person who may be a resident or non-resident, evidenced by proper and adequate documentation.

6.2 The goods involved in the trade transaction shall be tangible goods and non-listed goods (including raw materials, semi-finished products and finished products) and shall be used in the production of non-listed goods (please refer to table 1 on listed goods)

6.3 Unless otherwise specifically provided for in these Guidelines or approved by BNM, the “sale” or “purchase” of services shall not be eligible for AB-i financing. However, the following activities may be considered for AB-i financing:

(i) Purchase of computer software licences;

(ii) Companies involved in trade-related logistic services such as warehousing, forwarding and shipping; and

(iii) Electricity purchased from independent power producer.

Exemption will be granted on case-by-case basis.

(ii) The two transacting parties are sole proprietorships operated or owned by the same individual or where the proprietors are different individuals related to each other (parent/child or spouse); or
(iii) The two transacting parties are partnerships in which the partners are the same individuals or the majority of the partners are common, or one or more common partners own the majority share in the partnerships.

6.5 Where the two transacting parties are related corporations, an AB-i may still be drawn provided that the accepting/drawing bank shall take reasonable measures to verify that:

(i) The related corporations are indeed separate legal entities; and

(ii) The trade transaction between the two related corporations was undertaken at arm’s length and there was a genuine transfer of title to the goods concerned, evidenced by proper and adequate documentation.

6.6 Extension of AB-i tenure or creation of new AB-i using the same commercial/financial documents of the existing AB-i to repay the financing created by existing AB-i is not allowed.

7. Documentary Requirements

7.1 In general, an AB-i may only be drawn on the presentation of a complete set of documents, as follows:

Appendix II - Computation of Financing Proceeds (Under Murabahah)

The financial value of AB-i in case of purchases is calculated using the formula as follows:

\[ FV = IV \left(1 + \frac{r \times t}{36500}\right) \]

Where,

- FV = Face or maturity value
- IV = Invoice value
- r = Annual rate of profit (per cent per annum)
- t = Number of days remaining to maturity

Example

If an AB-i of RM1,000,000 IAB is financed under AB-i-Purchase for 90 days at 6.0% per annum, the financial value of the AB-i is derived as follows:

\text{Proceeds} = \text{RM1,000,000} \left(1 + \frac{6.0 \times 90}{36500}\right)

= \text{RM1,000,000} \left(1 + 0.0147945\right)

= \text{RM1,000,000} \times 1.0147945

= \text{RM1,014,794.52}
Appendix III - Computation of Trading Proceeds (Under bai’ dayn)

The price of AB-i is calculated as a net price expressed on an annual rate of profit basis, based on 365 days in a year, as follows:-

P = \frac{FV}{1 + \frac{r \cdot t}{36500}}

Where,

- \(P\) = Market price
- \(FV\) = Face or maturity value
- \(r\) = Annual rate of profit (per cent per annum)
- \(t\) = Number of days remaining to maturity

Example

An AB-i of RM1,000,000 with 90 days to maturity is sold or purchased at 6.0% per annum, the price is derived as follows:-

\begin{align*}
\text{Price} & = \frac{\text{RM1,000,000} \left( 1 - \frac{6.0 \times 90}{36500} \right)}{36500} \\
& = \frac{\text{RM1,000,000} \times (1 - 0.0147945)}{36500} \\
& = \frac{\text{RM1,000,000} \times 0.9852055}{36500} \\
& = \text{RM985,205.50}
\end{align*}
Appendix IV - Computation of the Sell and Buy Back Agreement (SBBA) transactions

The proceeds (receipt) from SBBA transaction shall be based on the following formula:

\[ P = \frac{FV \left(1 - \frac{r \times t}{36500}\right)}{\text{Market price}} \]

Where,

- \( P \) = Market price
- \( FV \) = Face or maturity value
- \( r \) = Annual rate of profit (per cent per annum)
- \( t \) = Number of days remaining to maturity

Example

On 13/5/2002, Bank A enters into an agreement with customer B to sell AB-i which matures on 27/6/2002 with a separate undertaking to purchase the same on 16/5/2002. The rate of profit is 3.00%.

\[ \text{Price} = \frac{2,000,000.00 \left(1 - 3.00 \times 45\right)}{36500} \]

\[ = \frac{2,000,000 \times (1 - 0.00369863)}{36500} \]

\[ = \frac{2,000,000 \times 0.99630137}{36500} \]

Total proceeds paid to Bank A on 13/5/2002 = RM 1,992,602.74

On 16/5/2002, SBBA contract matures. Customer B returns RM2 million AB-i due on 27/6/2002 to Bank A against a payment of RM1,993,075.66 which consists of the sum of:-
