PART A. INTRODUCTION

1. Overview of the Guidelines

- 1.1 The scope of banking business under the Islamic Banking Act (IBA) 1983 is universal in nature. Islamic banks are allowed to undertake wide spectrum of banking business encompassing Shariah compliant retail banking, commercial banking, investment banking and capital market activities.
- 1.2 With the recent legislation of the Capital Market and Services Act (CMSA) by Parliament in 2007, the requirements of the Act are being enforced gradually, beginning September last year. The CMSA recognises the universal nature of Islamic banking businesses and activities as prescribed under Schedule 4 of the CMSA. With the coming into effect of the CMSA, Islamic banks are expected to discharge its responsibility as other capital markets services providers who are governed under the CMSA.
- 1.3 With the expanded scope of Islamic banks' businesses under the CMSA, the Board and senior management is responsible to ensure that the risk management framework of the Islamic banks is sufficiently robust to cater for the expanded scope of activities.

2. Applicability

- 2.1 The Guideline is applicable to:
- (i) Domestic and foreign Islamic banks licensed under subsection 3(4) of the IBA to carry on Islamic banking business; and
 - (ii) International Islamic Banks licensed under subsection 30B(3) of the IBA to carry on Islamic banking business in currencies other than ringgit. In this regard, the activities permitted to be conducted shall be confined to those transacted or denominated in currencies other than ringgit.
